

The Daily News.

THURSDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 13, 1866.

State Items.

ARRIVAL OF TROOPS.—For the past three months there have been no soldiers at this post, and every thing has been going on quietly with the exception of the usual cases of larceny and misdemeanors which everywhere occur. In all cases the magistrates and sheriff have promptly done their duty in arresting offenders against the laws.

Last night a detachment of soldiers, numbering some ten or twelve, came on the cars, and one of the party (a sergeant we believe), signalled his arrival by knocking one of the railroad negroes on the head with his gun.

The gentleman in charge of the road hands informed him that he would be thrashed by the negroes if he did not "regulate himself," whereupon the military hero remarked that he had heard about Orangeburg; that he felt himself just at that moment competent to whip any white man in South Carolina, but as to the black niggers, he did not disgrace himself by fighting them, but would shoot them.

This may be affording us security for life and property, but we do not think it agrees exactly with General Pickens' late report.

Orangeburg Times.

HORSE STEALING.—A short time ago three horses, belonging to Mr. Dantzer, Mr. Moore, and Dr. Lacey, were stolen from a house in St. Matthews Parish, about twelve miles from town. Early next morning the horses were tracked by these gentlemen through our town and across the bridge of the Edisto River. They immediately pursued the thief on fast horses, and after an exciting chase we learn that they recovered their property before the sounder got to the Savannah River.—Ind.

ALL SORTS OF PARAGRAPHS.

Plenty of game in Central Illinois.
Most of the Natchez planters are out of debt.
Buffaloes are all around Kearney, Mo.

Bismark is said to punish a bottle of brandy daily.
There is $97,000,000 in gold in the United States Treasury.

Rats are worth fifteen cents apiece in New York.
Sausages are plenty.

A Rochester farmer doctors fruit trees with calomel.
A young Boston merchant has been down in the crater of Mount Vesuvius.

Trains will probably be running from Maine to California in three years.
It is stated that Charles O'Connor received a fee of $50,000 in the Sumner will case.

The profits of the London Times last year were $250,000.
The London Telegraph has the largest circulation in England—125,000.

A model is to be presented to Major-General G. H. Thomas by the State of Tennessee.
Great destitution prevails among the freedmen of Chattanooga.

The Cincinnatians are going to erect a magnificent hotel.
General Shelby, of Confederate notoriety, is running a wagon train from Paso del Macho to the City of Mexico.

The purchase of Lower California has been formally confirmed by the Mexican Government.
An old hunter recently found $7000 in gold and silver, buried in a keg, near the Mississippi River.

Recruiting is going on in all the principal cities of the South for the regular army.
John F. Madison, a printer and reporter of twenty years' experience, has been elected President of the St. Louis Railroad Company.

A Southern paper styles the rump Congress as a "Grand Plundering of a Glorious Cause."
Nearly everybody seems to be running for Governor in Kentucky.

The spring races in New Orleans promise to be brilliant.
There are thirty thousand idle negroes in Washington.

The march of enterprise has transfigured the Canal street of New Orleans into a Parisian boulevard.
Horse-meat butcher shops are among the institutions of Paris.

"Taxation without representation is tyranny."
The lapse of years defaces no golden thought.

The most approved style of hair dressing is "a martinet."
The "green-eyed monster" is again on the walk in Louisville.

It is a law that all log houses in Montana must be of heavy timber.
The procession in honor of Congress contained not over sixty white men.

Louisville has forty-three miles of street railroad track.
A lady is spoken of who is jealous of Niagara's waterfall.

Wilson and Sumner think Butler is "blabbing too much."
Gen. Lewis reports the freedmen in East Tennessee as craving for education.

Marshall, Texas, has brushed up wonderfully within a year.

The extreme of Radical absurdity—indicting a Judge because he declared the Civil Rights Bill unconstitutional.
Artemus Ward is reaping a rich harvest in England from his lectures. According to Ward, money, not virtue, has its own "ward."

It is estimated that over one hundred and fifty emigrants from Europe are landing in this country every day.
A Nashville paper claims that the people of that city are as religious as any community of the same size in any country.

Blondin expects to do well in Ireland where there is so much sympathy with those who put their necks in peril.
There is a gang of villains in New Orleans who kidnap little children on the streets and then obtain a reward by retaining them.

A beautiful white girl in Albany became so much enamored of a jet black negro that she eloped with him.
The man who followed his own coffin to the grave and then sued for his life insurance, has been tried at Antwerp for forgery, and condemned to be put into a coffin with his head off.

DeBow's Review advises Southern planters, where it is possible to do so, to hold on to their cotton until the removal of the temporary duties which check the advance of price have been corrected abroad.

Gov. Peirpont's message stands in strong contrast with the messages of the other Southern Governors, says a Connecticut paper—a contrast not favorable to Peirpont, it might have added.

A "richly dressed man went into a gambling saloon in Charleston, "Tuxedo" and "all his money, then his hat, his vest and his pocket watch, and then his boots, stockings, and shirt, until he finally left the house stark naked."

In Spain the art of adulterating food is carried to perfection. Butter, in that favored latitude, is composed of tallow, remnants of cheese, the juice of the petals of marigold, and raw potatoes scraped and reduced to pulp. This delicious compound is made into cakes, and outwardly provided with a layer of the genuine article.

Ristori was in Washington at the opening of Congress, first calling at the White House, where she was received by the President and his two daughters. Ristori manifests great interest in everything of a public nature connected with the Government. She visited the Treasury and Patent office, and went to Mount Vernon in a special boat provided for that purpose. Her representation of "Elizabeth" was witnessed by the President and family.

Mr. Norman Ward, before the Polytechnic Association, recently presented some curious statistics of the number of deaths in the battle of Gettysburg, stating that 47,374 guns were picked up on the field after the engagement, 24,000 of which were loaded. Of this number, one-half had two loads each, remaining unfired; one-quarter had three loads, and the remainder (3200) contained over ten loads apiece. Many were found having from two to six bullets over one charge; in others the powder was placed over the ball. One gun had six cartridges unfired. In one Springfield rifle thirty-three shots were fired, which was the only one amply loaded. One Remington rifle had one bullet and fifty buckshot, rammed in promiscuously.
